From our Trainer

Hello friends! We are so excited to be a part of Equifest this year! If you have picked up a copy of this newsletter, we know you have either made it by our booth or you have been nearby! Make sure you come and see us we will have some give-aways and opportunities to sign up for upcoming clinics and more.

Josh and I have been working hard to prepare for Top Horse. We have flyers at our booth with the Top Horse Schedule printed on them to make sure no one misses a minute of this action-packed event! Some of the events will be held in Domer and some in Landon so be sure to double check the schedule.

Looking ahead, March is jam-packed with events at Equus Curito Equine Center! We have a beginners roping clinic series that will be held on three separate weekends. (Please refer to the calendar for dates). This clinic will take you through the basics of roping a dummy all the way through roping live cattle! This is a great series for anyone who competes in obstacle racing or anyone who would like to be handy with a rope. Please contact Scott Simms for more information or to register: 1 (660) 679-1833.

Another very exciting event coming up is the Brad Lund Clinic on March 17th. This clinic is sold out, however you can still register as an auditor. We will also soon be announcing a fall clinic with Brad. You can get more information on that, including dates at our booth.

Another big clinic to get in line for is Joshua Rushing and Ashley Purdin's Body Control and Obstacle Clinic. This will be on March 24th and 25th and will cover everything you need to know to have a successful cowboy racing season! Whether you are just starting out, want to try something new or need to polish your skills, this clinic is a lot of fun and packed with a lot of good information. Josh and I have a supportive and interactive teaching approach that boosts confidence and advances skill levels in you and your horse. We still have a few spots left in this one so be sure to come by our booth and get your spot reserved.

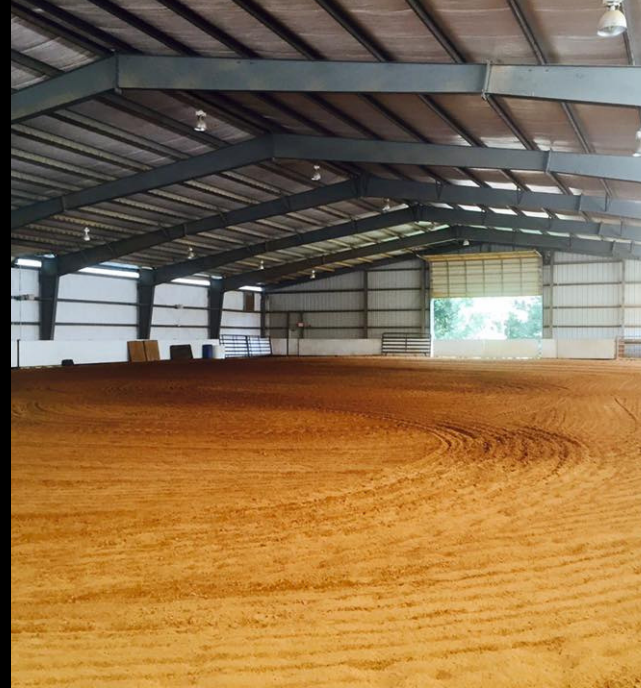

You can sign up for any of these great events at our booth!
Look forward to seeing you!

Ashley & Team
